

Junior Counsellor

Junior Counselors (JC's) are an important part of the CISV Village experience as they can relate to both children and the adults and to act as a link between them. JC's participate in leader's meetings and contribute to the planning and operation of the daily activities with the Village program.

The 28-day Village program, brings together delegations from 10 - 12 countries together into a global community. Each delegation consists of two boys and two girls, 11 years of age along with an adult leader (age 21+). The camp is coordinated by an adult staff supported by the Junior Counsellors from different countries. Each village consists of 5-6 Junior counsellors. They are considered "older-siblings" of the 11 year participants.

Parent Section:

1. Please indicate any health concerns such as allergies, behavioural considerations and medications required by your child. _____

2. Please indicate any food restrictions (vegetarian, no pork, halal, etc.) _____

3. Why did you encourage your child to apply to be a CISV Junior Counsellor?

4. How would your child benefit as a result of their Junior Counsellor experience? What qualities does your child have that make them a good candidate?

5. Do you have any concerns about sending your child to a Village to be a Junior Counsellor?

6. Preparation for being a Junior Counsellor requires time for training and engaging with others traveling . In order for your child to be able to attend a Village, CISV London must host a camp every two years. This requires commitment on your behalf to remain involved in CISV London before, during and after your child's participation in the program. We require families to help fundraise, coordinate events, supervise activities, host delegates and general tasks to sustain the organization and allow others to have the same opportunity as your child in the future. How can you help?

7. Please provide us with 2 references, preferably people who have had an opportunity to observe your child in a group setting such as a teacher, club leader, coach etc.
